

Kalama Site Access Information

Kalama Green Mountain Rock Hound Collecting area update

Due to forester activity in and around the Green Mountain area, ALL of the Kalama Rock Hound area is closed as of May 6th, 2010. The WSMC will be notified when the area is to re-open.

Please respect this notice to help keep the area open to us for rock hounding.

Thank you

LongView Fibre is now LongView Timber

We will be able to get back in to Kalama Green Mountain area to rockhound, with some restrictions.

We need to be on our best behavior. I.E. fill in our holes, and not dig where we should not. The area south of the beaver ponds is closed and the J. E. Johnson road area (south of the ponds) is Closed FOREVER.

The area North of the ponds is open.

Remember that if you go on LVT property to rockhound, let them know you are doing so.

If we want to keep this area open we must follow the rules set forth by the land owners. LongView Timber.

For more information please contact the Bellevue Rock Club at bellevuerockclub@comcast.net

LongView Timber (LVT) has sent the WSMC a set of rules to be followed while on their property. This applies to the Kalama area as well as the rest of LongView Timber land.

All people that want to rockhound on LVT land need to contact LVT and ask them if it is ok to go onto there land. This applies to ALL, even if you have all the proper paper work and have gotten a key for your club you need to contact LVT and ask if it is ok.

For safety reasons, LVT requests all rock hounding recreational users of the Kalama Green Mountain area to get permission before going onto their property.

In the summer time they generally close their land to recreational use due to FIRE hazard. Also they may be working the land and at that time there would be no access to the general public. All who take a group or go as a individual on to their land must have permission from LVT.

We will try our best to post when the area is closed, it will be posted at on this website.

LongView Timber Rules While On Company Property

- 1.) All members will enter through the gate at the same time. Their names and vehicle license numbers will be recorded. They will then be signed out as they leave the property.
- 2.) Vehicles must stay on rocked roads only.
- 3.) No Digging in any creeks or channels, whether they contain water or are dry. No dirt is to be placed so that it may get in to the creeks.
- 4.) Any holes that are created as a result of digging, are to be back filled, so there are no "fox holes" left behind
- 5.) No Fires at any time or for any reason.
- 6.) No Smoking during travel or while working.
- 7.) No camping.
- 8.) Anyone found digging in a Creek will be escorted off the property.
- 9.) DO NOT disturb any newly planted trees, i.e., step on, dig up, or dig within 5 feet of

Please be sure to follow these simple rules while on LonView Timber property. Doing so will help ensure rockhounds continued access to this area.

It is always best to call on LongView Timber to see if the area is open to rockhounding and it also lets them know when someone will be on there land.

Thanks for your help